ACING Stories: North Glenora Seniors' Tea

-Sheila Hallett

North Glenora long-time residents enjoyed an opportunity to gather and catch up on local news October 21st. With the help of Nicole Howard, Diana Shaw, Margret French, Bauni Mackay, Bev Orchard, Donna Chasnykhe, Wendy Sauve, and Marissa MacIsaac, the Abundant Communities Initiative for North Glenora (ACING) hosted a tea party to encourage some story telling and sharing of memories.

Stories from Marg Bowler, a 64+ year resident of North Glenora, were recorded and arranged into a 4-minute video which uses archival photos and a bit of period music to help capture a flavour of the time. The video was shown for the first time at the tea. If other residents would be willing to be interviewed about their memories of our community, please contact us and we will make arrangements to meet. You can reach Sheila Hallett by email ngclAcing@gmail.com or call 780-982-9401; or Marissa MacIsaac abundantng@gmail.com or call 780-237-5266.

The Tea also included a table display of archive NGCL photo albums to encourage story telling about our community of North Glenora as well as a table of information about community supports and resources available for seniors in Edmonton. To help attendees learn more about Abundant Community, a short video was played which gives a good overview of this neighbouring initiative and how it's catching on in Edmonton. As part of our initiative we encouraged tea attendees to express their interests, skills/abilities and wishes for our North Glenora Community and many of them took us up on the offer. Fun was had by all. Here is one of the programs that was referenced at the tea:

Do you need help around the home, but don't know who to call?

The Seniors Home Supports Program gives Edmonton seniors referrals to service providers offering snow removal, yard help, housekeeping, minor home repair and maintenance, personal services, and moving help. Visit www.SeniorsHomeSupports.com or call the North West Edmonton Seniors Society 780-482-1958.

Interested in being included in a snow shoveling registry for North Glenora?

This would include students or adults and could be for paid work or for volunteering.

Send you name to northglenoranews@gmail.com or abundantng@gmail.com to be included in the newsletter registry and for our Abundant Community Initiative to put into a database.

Alberta Health Services — Emergency Medical Services

Cold Weather Safety

Emergency Medical Services (EMS) paramedics respond to a number of cold weather related emergencies every winter. However, by taking appropriate measures to dress properly, anticipate sudden weather changes and preparing to be out in the cold, may reduce your risk of sustaining a cold weather illness/injury. It's also advised you store an emergency kit in your vehicle at all times containing extra clothing, blankets and other road-side supplies.

Frostnip

- Frost-nipped skin is extremely cold, but not yet frozen skin;
- It commonly affects the ears, nose, cheeks, fingers and toes;
- The skin may look red and possibly feel numb to the touch;
- When treated promptly, frostnip usually heals without complication;
- Move to a warm environment and immediately, but gently, re-warm the affected area through skin to skin contact (i.e. hand covering tips of ears).

Frostbite

- Frostbite occurs when skin becomes so cold, the skin and underlying tissues freeze;
- Affected skin may look white & waxy and will feel hard to the touch;
- Move to a warm environment immediately and place the affected area in warm, not hot, water, until fully re-warmed;
- Call 9-1-1, or seek further medical attention as required.

Hypothermia

- Hypothermia is abnormally low body temperature, less than 34°C (as compared to normal body temperature of about 37°C);
- Early hypothermia may manifest as profound shivering; moderate hypothermic patients may act inappropriately: stumbling, mumbling, and fumbling, as their body temperature continues to drop resulting in severe hypothermia (<30°C);
- Left untreated, severe hypothermia may progress to unconsciousness or death;
- Early recognition and prompt medical attention is key. Call 9-1-1. Don't forget to protect yourself from the factors that originally lead to the patient's situation;
- Initiate gentle re-warming as quickly as possible. Remove any wet or constrictive clothing; cover with blankets, or sleeping bags. Protect from further heat loss: eliminate contact with cold surfaces, and shield from wind and moisture.

The Village GREEN – Climate Change

-Erin Olefeldt

For this edition of The Village Green, I'm zooming out from our little community to talk about a big picture issue. Globally, the earth's temperature has risen 1 degree above pre-industrial times and the impacts of this warming can be seen in rapidly melting sea ice and rising sea levels, ocean warming, coral bleaching, ocean acidification, species extinction, rising numbers of invasive species, increasing frequency and intensity of storms, extreme heat and droughts and increasing frequency and devastation caused by wildfires.

I think it's easy to feel far removed from some of the impacts of climate change when we don't experience some of its effects firsthand, but right here at home there are some serious warning signs that the time to take meaningful action is now. This past summer, BC was forced to declare a state of emergency as it experienced one of the worst forest fire years on record. My kids and I were in Kelowna while the fires were raging and the air quality was so bad, it was considered unhealthy and we had to spend a lot of our time indoors. It was no better in Edmonton when we returned with our city ranking worst in the world for air quality (over India, China and the Middle East) for a few days in August. And the impacts aren't just seen in the summer. One of the effects of climate change we can see that hits us Canadians close to home is that our winters are warming and that means less predictable winter weather and fewer days for backyard and community hockey rinks. Between 1951 and 2005 the number of skating days has decreased by as much as two weeks across the country, and the average temperatures near Edmonton have increased by 5 degrees. Some of my favourite memories are of skating on the rink my Dad made for us in our yard each year, but with unpredictable freeze and thaw cycles in the winter, rinks may not be worth the effort in the near future.

At the Paris Climate Convention in 2015, the International Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), which is made up of scientists representing 195 countries around the world, was commissioned to do a special report on the impacts of global temperatures rising to 1.5 degrees and to set out measures and actions required for reaching this goal. They pledged to reduce CO_2 emissions in an attempt to limit further warming. The findings of the report were alarming to say the least and the one that really struck me is this: The IPCC estimates that we have no more than 12 years before global temperatures rise to a tipping point that will trigger a kind of runaway global warming, significantly increasing sea level, drought and extreme weather, and refugee crises. We need to drastically reduce the amount of CO_2 emissions being released into the atmosphere and we need to do it now. Twelve years. I have little kids. It really puts things into perspective and sets off some serious alarm bells. There isn't time for apathy, we really must act. For our children. For our grandchildren. For ourselves and for the Planet.

In the next edition of The Village Green, I'll explore some actions big and small that we can all take to help limit greenhouse gas emissions in our every day lives. For now, please find this petition online: https://act.350.org/sign/good-work-guarantee/

And please join this one: https://changeforclimate.ca/

And send a letter to your MP asking them to pledge to protect our environmental rights: http://bluedot.ca/email-mp-pledge/

Coronation School Casino Volunteers Needed

My name is Heather and I am a parent at Coronation School. Our Fundraising Society is currently recruiting for our casino on January 15 & 16, 2019. To those of you have already signed up, THANK YOU!! We really appreciate your support! And for those of you who haven't yet or are considering, please do! It's a lot of fun and a great way to connect with neighbours in your community!

Casinos are our largest fundraiser for Coronation School. We volunteer at casinos every 2 years in order to raise funds for technology, artists in residence, and other programs at the school. We raise approximately $75,000 at these events and without this money, the school would not have funds for these items and activities. A few hours of your time will help ensure that these excellent programs at the school can continue.

We still need about 5 volunteers for Wednesday, January 16th and several "back up" volunteers that we can call on last minute for both Tuesday and Wednesday shifts. There are 2 ways you can sign up:

1. Visit http://signup.com/go/QtAsutL where there is the complete list of positions needed. Please make sure to provide your contact information.

2. Email me at devinehma@gmail.com with your contact information and shift preferences.

Thanks once again for your support - we can't do this without you!

Welcome to Coronation School!

We are extremely excited to continue enhancing our focus on the International Baccalaureate (IB) Primary Years Programme (PYP) to emphasize inquiry and development of the whole person.

Through the support and talent of our students, staff and families, we work together to create a dynamic learning community. At Coronation, we're committed to ensuring all students have a sense of belonging and are engaged, active and involved in high quality learning opportunities.

International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme

As an IB World School, Coronation strives to challenge students with rigorous learning experiences. We establish this by:

- involving students actively in their own learning
- engaging students with rich, relevant content
- high level questioning (by adults and students)
- providing opportunities for students to express voice and choice
- emphasizing depth of learning, no just coverage
- focusing on the quality rather than quantity of student work

Curriculum

The Primary Years Programme identifies the curriculum in three ways:

- written curriculum—what do we want to learn?
- taught curriculum—how best will we learn?
- assessed curriculum—how will we know what we have learned?

Classroom Learning

In a PYP classroom, portions of each school day are also dedicated to helping students master essential knowledge and skills in basic subject areas such as math, reading and writing. All teaching aims to foster student curiosity and critical-thinking skills, developing an international perspective and meeting the diverse needs of all students.

Assessment

In the PYP, assessment is part of a continuous cycle that leads students to deeper levels of understanding. Assessment is used to identify students' current level of understanding and determine what they need to learn and how they will best learn, so they can master new knowledge, concepts and skills.
